

Custom, Hand-drawn Patterns

My unique pattern-drawing technique is a very organic, simple process. I begin with a photograph, enlarge it to my designated size, and then, using tracing paper, create a detailed pattern by using smooth, easy-to-applique curved lines. I draw the pattern lines according to how the subject feels, grows or moves, and taking into consideration basic anatomy. The individual pieces of my patterns are not designated by color, rather, by structure. When the pattern is complete, it looks similar to a stained glass window. I prefer a 'jigsaw puzzle' approach to choosing fabrics. I enjoy searching for the perfect blending colors, and then finding the perfect spot in the fabric to cut out the missing piece.

For $50, I will use your provided image to create a one-of-a-kind pattern for your personal use.
